

DREAMS

Dreams go where thoughts and memories are forbidden.

Dreams poke and burrow underneath neat rows of nice.

I dream of people with faces
I know I don't know, yet they're 'real.'

Bright colors, strange locations;
even dreams in color can be dark.

Does God know about dreams?
Or, does He dream us?

robert wolff © 1995